

Scott serves Augusta Health, Augusta Medical Group, and Augusta Care Partners ACO as Vice President and Chief Compliance and Privacy Officer. Augusta Health is a nationally recognized health system located in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.

He was one of the first healthcare compliance officers nationally Board Certified in the United States by the Health Care Certification Board, in 2000. He attended the first university-based introductory and advanced compliance training programs, at the Harvard University of Public Health, in 1998 and 2000. He has served continuously as chief compliance, risk, and privacy officer for health systems, hospitals, large medical practice groups, and multi state medical malpractice corporations.

Scott believes that healthcare compliance, quality of care, and clinical excellence go hand in hand. He is a frequent presenter to national compliance institutes, as faculty speaker and program track co-chair. He is a published author of books, manuals, and peer reviewed articles on a wide range of compliance topics.